COPYRIGHT GUIDE

Think before you print

Libraries

Need to print/copy from a book or a journal?

NO

If you are printing something you created, such as a presentation, you are allowed to print multiple copies.

You can share online materials with your lecturers or fellow students by providing the URL, web or other online resources.

You can use our digital resources through OpenAthens, which offers a wide range of eBooks and other online resources. For help with digital resources contact the Library team at Library@wcs.ac.uk

YES

Do you need to print multiple copies?

NO

You are permitted to print up to 5% or a single chapter of a book, or article from a newspaper or magazine

If you need to print more than 5% of a book or publication you can ask a copyright Ambassador at copyright@wcs.ac.uk for assistance in obtaining permission from the copyright owner.

YES

If you need to print multiple copies, please consult with the College Copyright Ambassador at copyright@wcs.ac.uk. They can assist you in requesting permission from the copyright owner. However, this may not always be necessary. We strongly recommend exploring the library's range of digital materials, which are covered by specific licences and can be shared with classmates and lecturers.